SECTION 1: INTRODUCTION ABOUT THE CURRENT SITUATION

1.1. INTRODUCTION

Organizational culture (hereinafter – OC) and organizational ethics (hereinafter – OE) are two various subjects that are closely related with each other and intertwined in different ways. OC is perceived as shared values, beliefs and behaviors that have influence on the work environment and behaviors of employees and other internal stakeholders in the organization. On the other hand, OE is the principles, which guide a person individually or employees' behaviors regarding accepted right or wrong actions.

It is obvious that having an ethical organizational culture and applicable Holistic Ethical Organizational Policy (hereinafter – HEOC), which provides guidance for employees and other internal stakeholders on ethical behaviors, can reduce misbehavior actions in the organizations.

1.2. CURRENT SITUATION

Baku State University (hereinafter – BSU) is the only largest and oldest University in Azerbaijan and has a long history from 1919, which effects formulation of holistic organizational culture throughout decades. As a University, BSU has more than 24.000 students and almost 3000 employees, including academic staff, administrative staff, support, and technical staff. It is obvious that students, academicians or other staff from different cultures, perceptions, values, and beliefs foster diversity within the University and thus, it is essential to have accepted framework regarding right and wrong actions considering different categories.

SITUATION

According to the respective provisions of Labor Code of Azerbaijan Republic, other related legislations, and internal rules of BSU, respective labor contract is signed by all employees within recruiting process and all newly recruited employees get acquainted with their respective job descriptions. In all job descriptions, it is mentioned that it is mandatory for all employees to obey accepted disciplinary rules in BSU, including Code of Academic Integrity, Code of Ethics for Employees and Teachers.

The Disciplinary Commission is performing according to its stature and addresses the issues related to violations of the requirements of respective ethic codes. On the other hand, Code of Ethics for Employees and Teachers was adopted by The Scientific Council and employees are encouraged to behave in line with Code of Academic Integrity, Code of Ethics for Employees and Teachers (together hereinafter – Codes) and informed about the possible risks of misbehaviors.

Additionally, the Trade Union is operating at BSU according to its statue and the Union has responsibility to protect the rights of labors and make their voices heard from the Senior Leadership. In the case of the termination of the labor contract due to violations of provision(s) of the Codes, The Union investigates the case and make decision, take some preventive action(s) in necessity.

Moreover, Appeal Commission is performing at BSU according to its statue and responsible for handling student appeals and grievances and inform related Unit or structure about the apeal and grievances and support for the resolution.

1.3. LEGAL BASE

Legal base of HEOC is provisions of the respective Laws of Azerbaijan Republic, Decrees and (or) the orders of The President and The Cabinet of Ministries of Azerbaijan Republic, this HEOC Policy of Baku State University, respective International Field Standards and other related legal documents. In cases where the application of HEOC Policy requirements conflicts with existing laws, regulations, or governmental requirements, exemptions may be granted.

SECTION 2: MISSION, OBJECTIVES AND SCOPE OF THE POLICY

2.1. MISSION OF THE HEOC POLICY

The mission of this policy is to foster and promote behaviors considering ethical values, including diversity, honesty, respect, and fairness through making framework and guidance on ethical organizational culture.
